

Dominik Lange 🌿

Hi, I'm Dominik, a media designer from Munich with experience in publishing, UI/UX, and video production, as well as photography. My work is creative, precise, and aesthetically pleasing. I strive for timeless design, efficient workflows, and continuous improvement. I'm always on the lookout for inspiration and new challenges.

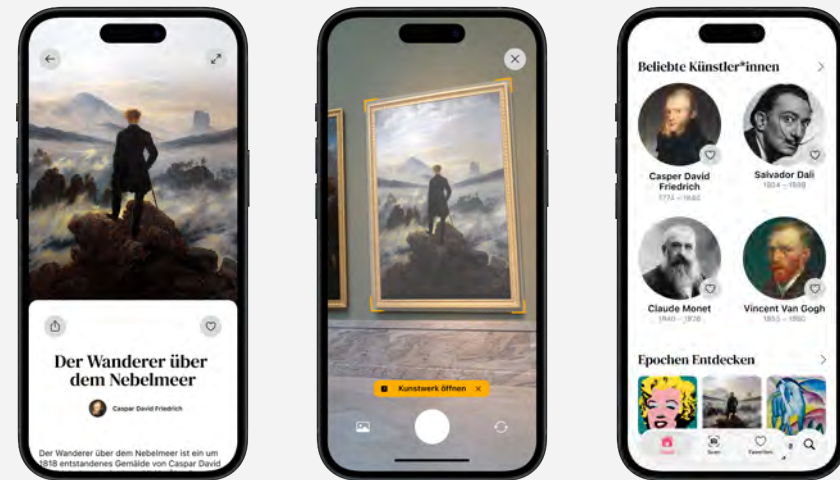

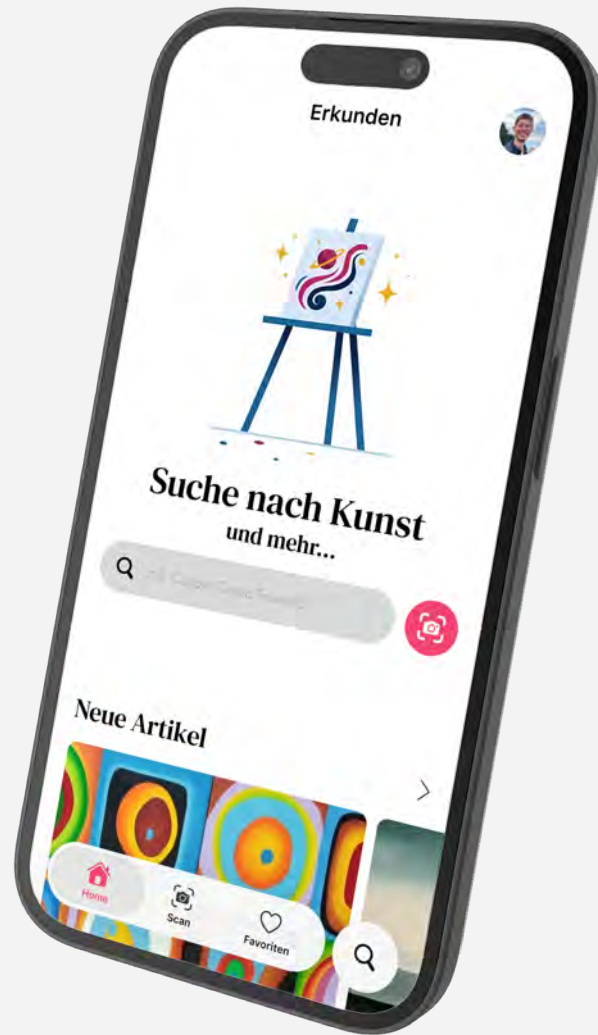

SeeMagazin

This is my fifth consecutive year working on this stunning coffee-table magazine. It showcases beautiful landscapes in Bavaria's Five Lakes Region, as well as interesting personalities and activities from the area. It stands out thanks to its expansive lake photos, airy and dynamic layout, and elegant typography that encourages reading. The Instagram page is also updated several times a week to showcase events and locations around the lakes.

Art History App

This is a concept for an art history app designed to help users discover, learn about, and scan works of art in museums. Users can learn more about the art and the history behind it—whether at home, in a museum, or at an exhibition. Users can scan works of art with their camera or search for specific pieces to get information on their creation, significance, the artist, and more. Through personalized recommendations, curated content, and intuitive navigation, art becomes more accessible and easier to understand.

Gute Fahrt

This classic automotive magazine, which first appeared in 1950, specializes in vehicles from the Volkswagen Group. It features driving reports, reviews, technical articles, and service pieces. It has a modern and minimalist design with plenty of white space. The high-quality photos of the cars catch the eye and encourage readers to flip through the pages and read. The design conveys a professional and appealing impression that car fans and enthusiasts love.

Christoph Wellendorff trifft Igor Levit

Wellendorff

Wellendorff is a German luxury jewelry brand that has been renowned for its timeless design and craftsmanship for over 130 years. I have now filmed and edited two interviews for Wellendorff. When it comes to videos, I place a high priority on high-quality production, professional lighting, and perfect audio quality.

newhealth.guide

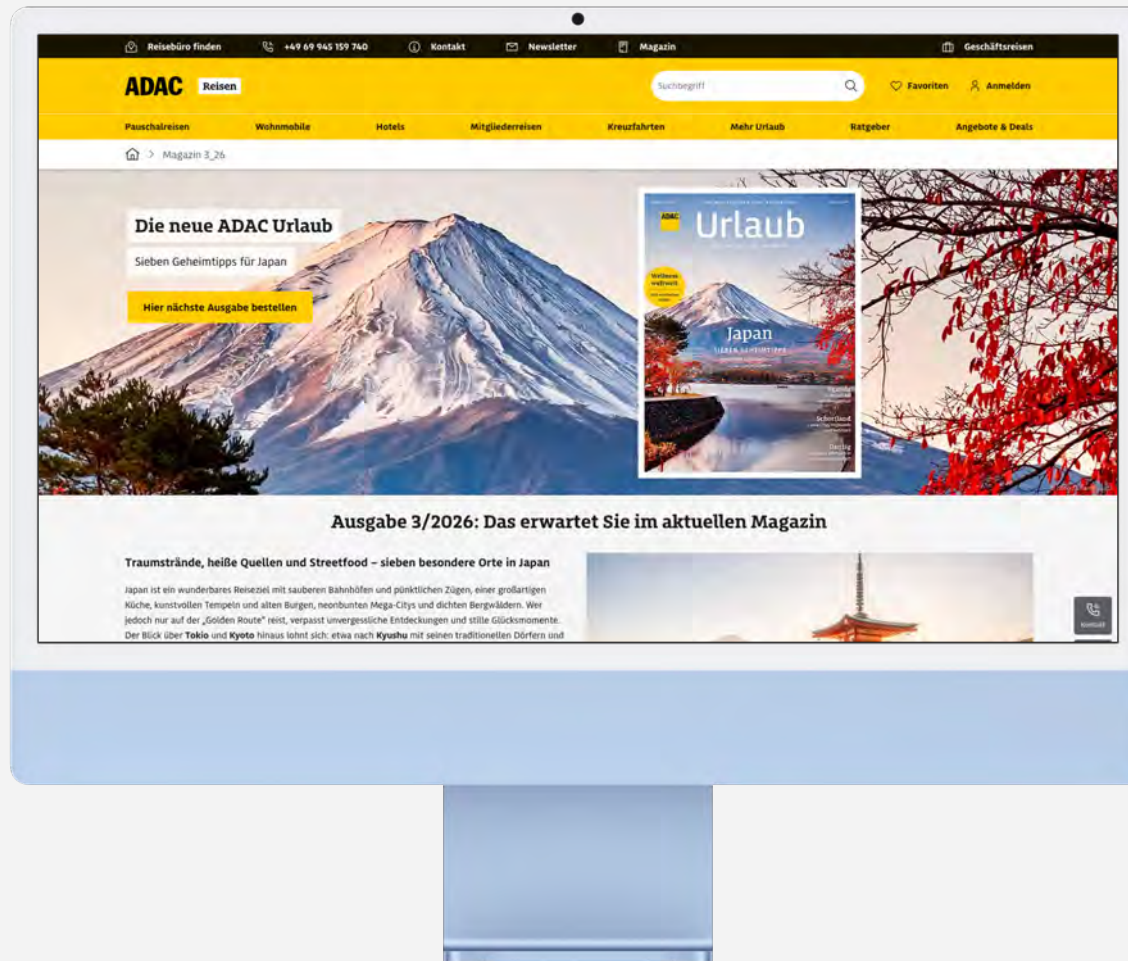

This is a clean and simple website that showcases and explains the company newhealth.guide and its various media offerings. It also serves as a hub for the podcast and provides access to the e-magazine and newsletter. I developed the website using a simple modular system in consultation with the client.

Porsche Klassik

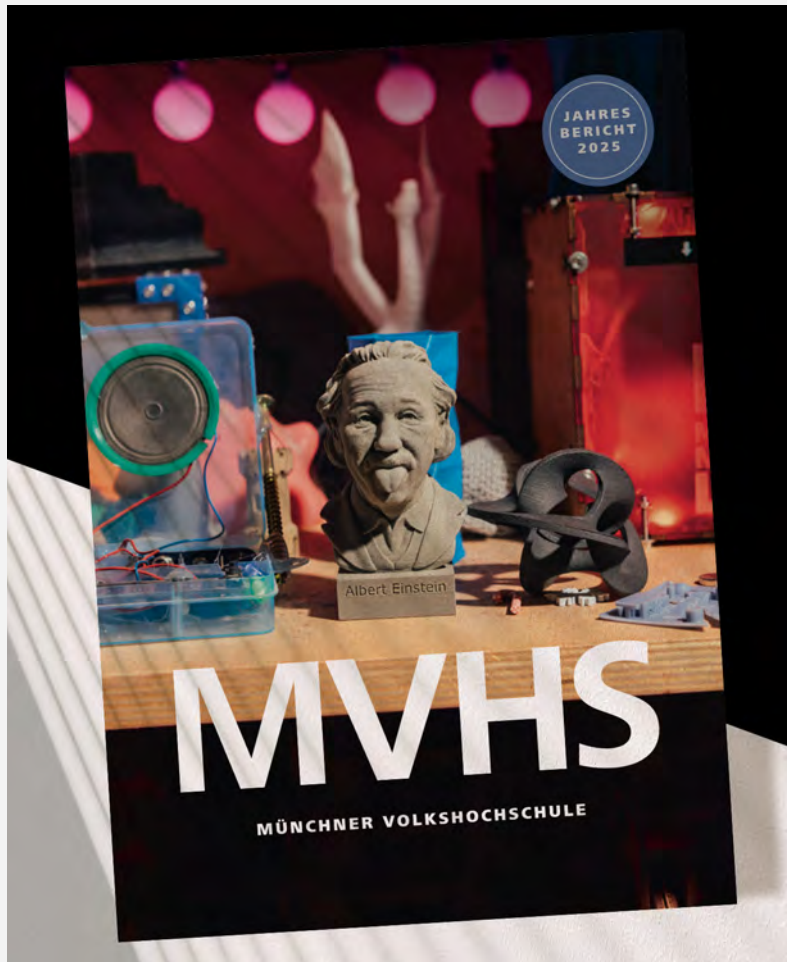

This issue, dedicated to Porsche classics, stands out for its unique layout and creative use of typography. The magazine sheds new light on these vintage vehicles and tells fascinating stories about the cars and their owners, without neglecting the technical details.

ADAC Urlaub

The website for the magazine "ADAC Urlaub" received a design update in 2024. Using the CMS system, the website was redesigned from the ground up so that users can see what this issue is about.

It provides a preview of other topics and offers the option to order the magazine for free.

MVHS

The Munich Adult Education Center's annual report provides an overview of the MVHS's activities throughout the year. From crises to people and nature to school graduations, it covers everything that has shaped the MVHS over the past year. The layout is simple, modern, and at times quite detailed, with plenty of information on each topic. In contrast, the cover story, with its large images and small fact boxes, is lighthearted and invites readers to browse.
